Dear Partners and Friends,

The National Sports Medicine Foundation (NSMF) invites you to join us for our annual ATC Sports Medicine Conference to be held all day Friday, August 2, 2019 and the morning of Saturday, August 3, 2019 at Shenandoah University, Loudoun Campus.

The purpose of this conference is to provide continuing education to sports medicine and orthopaedic professionals on current and innovative sports medicine concepts, and foster discussions and relationships with other members of the medical community on topics related to sports medicine.

This conference also will provide the opportunity to receive up to seven EBP credits.

At our previous conferences, we were able to provide educational resources to Loudoun and Fairfax County athletic trainers. This year, we are going to expand this conference to a larger community and encourage networking and sharing best practices.

Please consider joining us for our seventh annual NSMF ATC Sports Medicine Conference. Registration and conference schedule are enclosed.

Sincerely,

Timothy S. Johnson, MD
Dir., National Sports Medicine Foundation

David C. Johnson, MD
Pres., National Sports Medicine Institute
